

The Last Page

Hover through the foggy vapors till I see you in a dream singing animals to sleep. By the way, it's over without you. I'm in the way, I'm in my way.

Lights out till midnight, sleep all day. Dark and quiet only the owls are watching only the sky is up and I'm leaving for a place from another time just to be near you just to be near you just to be near you but I'm in the way, I'm in the way. Don't become the one you hated. Death is absolutely safe. A billion bibles mark the last page.

Got to roll through the days without you here
I get a shock, shock hurts to heal
Got to roll through the weeks without you here
I get a shock, shock hurts to heal
Got to roll through the months without you here
I get a shock, shock hurts to heal
